Youth Builds 35-Ton Capacity Hydraulic Press

Loran Weingart's Device Serves Dual Purpose

By GLENN SCHOTTEN

When a young man lives on a farm and needs to complete a school project, it's natural—and wise—to conjure up an idea that will serve the interests of both places.

This was exactly the goal of Loran Weingart of RD 2, Salem, senior at the Salem School of Technology. He constructed a 35-ton capacity hydraulic press that met the requirements of graduation, and will be a workhorse in the farm workshop for years to come.

"WE FIGURED THE PRESS would be a useful piece of equipment around the farm to straighten pieces of metal and perform other chores," said Loran, who was born with a strong mechanical bent. The press is capable of doing stamping and tool and die work.

Loran's press, which took upwards of 200 hours to construct, has a 20-second cylinder cycle. His father, Orlan, who is a foreman at the Electric Furnace Co. is proud of his son's accomplishment. "All parts of the press are within 1-32 of an inch of being square and parallel," Orlan says. "In a factory 1-16 of an inch is considered excellent."

Loran built the press while it was prone on the floor of his father's workshop. He completed one side then turned it over to finish it. The father estimates Loran's press was constructed at about half the cost of a factory-made one.

DO-IT-YOURSELF PRESS — Loran Weingart of RD 2, Salem built this powerful hydraulic press at home as his senior project at the Salem School of Technology. It will come in handy in the farm shop for straightening jobs and other shop work.

THE MACHINE, ALMOST eight feet tall and 4½ feet wide, is operated by a two-horsepower motor. Loran said he expects to put on a larger motor to boost the capacity to its potential of 35 tons.

Young Weingart, now working in the engineering department at Bellows Falls, will be among the 65 members of the School of Technology's first graduating class Friday when commencement is held at the Junior High Auditorium. The 1961 United High School graduate has a brother, Brooks, who has also enrolled at the School of Technology. Both boys have shown an inclination toward mechanical work since their youth, their dad says. While still young boys, they were almost constantly at the side of their father working in the shop repairing farm machinery or otherwise learning the tricks of the mechanical trade

Nikita Welshed, Chinese Claim

Say Premier Vowed To Provide A-Bomb

TOKYO (AP) — Red China charged today that Soviet Premier Khrushchev welshed on a promise to teach it how to make atomic bombs in order to please President Eisenhower at the Camp David talks four years ago.

In a biting statement broadcast by the New China News Agency, a "spokesman for the Chinese government" said the Soviet Union on June 20, 1919, "when there was not yet the slightest sign of a treaty on stopping nuclear tests, refused to provide China with a sample of an atomic bomb and technical data concerning its manufacture."

The statement said this "unilaterally tore up the agreement on new technology for national defense concluded between China and the Soviet Union on Oct. 15, 1957."

"This was done as a presentation gift at the time the Soviet leader (Premier Khrushchev) went to the United States for talks with Eisenhower," the statement asserted.

Two Road Mishaps Probed by Patrol

A Salem woman's auto was struck and damaged by another car at 12:40 a.m. today on Route 224, about one mile east of the Mahoning-Portage County line, but no one was injured.

Mrs. Helene G. Humphreys, 55, of Slater Rd., RD 2, Salem was traveling west on Route 224 when a car operated by Joseph P. Hegyi, 56, of Barberton pulled from a private drive into the path of the local woman, the Canfield post of the State Highway Patrol reported.

Youth Shot Accidentally By Companion

Melvin L. Mercer, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mercer, New Waterford RD 1, is in fair condition at Salem City Hospital after being accidentally shot Wednesday at 8:30 p.m. by Richard Dickens, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dickens of New Waterford RD 1, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Deputy Kent Garvey, who made the investigation, said the two youths were shooting frogs at a lake on the Mercer farm, when a crow flew over and Dickens took a shot at it.

He was firing a .22 caliber pump action rifle, and when he brought the gun down, he pumped another bullet in the gun and accidentally pulled the trigger, hitting Mercer.

Dickens carried Mercer about a quarter mile toward the Mercer home, then set him down and ran another quarter mile to the house.

Only 66 prospective donors have registered to give blood at the Monday visit here of the Red Cross Bloodmobile, Louis J. Raymond, chairman of the North Columbiana County Red Cross blood program, said today.

Raymond, voicing alarm at the lag in registration, said 110 more sign-ups are needed to insure meeting the 125-pint quota.

Since the Red Cross office will not be open over the weekend, the deadline for registration is Friday at 5 p.m.

Walk-ins will be welcome at any time during the bloodmobile hours from noon until 6 p.m.

NATO Airs Next Set Of East-West Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has started consultation with its NATO allies on the next round of Western talks with the Soviet Union.

Officials here hope for the development of a Western negotiating position by the middle of next month.

The target date arises from the fact that Secretary of State Dean Rusk and the British Foreign Secretary, Lord Home, are scheduled to meet Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko in New York about the time of the U.O. General Assembly opening Sept. 18.

Meanwhile East-West diplomatic talks on the shape of the next round and on specific problems which may be dealt with in an effort to lessen cold war tensions are expected to go forward also on three other fronts—in the disarmament talks at Geneva, in meetings between State Department officials and the Soviet ambassador in Washington, and in discussions between the Foreign Office and the U.S. ambassador in Moscow.

At the moment, U.S. officials are not sure either what the cold war negotiations will be about or what form they will take.

Sen. Byrd Sees Little Chance Of Congress Acting on Tax Cut Bill

House Finance Group Reported Divided on Plan

Filibuster on Civil Rights May Also Delay Legislators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd today joined Republican congressional leaders in expressing doubt that Congress will pass a tax reduction bill this year. Byrd, Virginia Democrat who heads the Senate Finance Committee which would consider any measure passed by the House, said opposition to any immediate tax reduction has been building up to the point where it is touch-and-go whether any measure could gain majority support within the group.

Beyond that, he said in an interview that a prospective Southern filibuster on civil rights legislation may slow committee procedures to the point where it could not act until late in the year, even if a majority supported tax cuts. Byrd opposes any reductions not accompanied by spending cuts he said the administration seems unwilling to make.

"I just don't know what will happen," he said. "But with the committee so divided and the legislative schedule so jammed up, it seems doubtful to me that a bill can be passed. I don't think Congress is going to want to stay here all year."

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana told a news conference Wednesday they doubt that a tax bill will be passed this year.

Dirksen said legislative action probably couldn't be completed in the Senate until Thanksgiving and he indicated he doesn't really think Congress will stay in Washington that long. Halleck said the House wouldn't be happy if it passed a bill and the Senate held it over until next year.

The word has gone around the Senate that civil rights will be brought to a showdown after Labor Day, about the time the House is expected to debate the

Senate Group Demands Detailed Information

Taylor Continues Testimony On Test Ban, U.S. Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor goes back on the limited test-ban treaty firing line today amid demands he justify his support of the treaty with detailed plans to safeguard U.S. security.

The demands came from the Senate Preparedness subcommittee, conducting an independent investigation into the treaty banning tests in the atmosphere, underwater and in outer space. Taylor testified Wednesday that while there are military "risks and disadvantages," the Joint Chiefs of Staff, with specified safeguards, approve Senate ratification as "compatible with the security interests of the United States."

On a motion by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., the subcommittee subsequently voted to demand a specific list of the planned safeguard requirements of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, of which Taylor is chairman.

Jackson reported that Taylor had assured the subcommittee in his closed-door testimony that the data could be supplied but that it would take some time to assemble it.

Taylor has an opportunity to elaborate on the uniformed command's views at an open session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee which has jurisdiction over the treaty. Members of the Senate Armed Services and the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committees are sitting in at the hearings.

While there has been a mounting accumulation of testimony urging Senate ratification by the necessary two-thirds majority, a strong dissent was registered before the preparedness subcommittee Monday by Dr. Edward Teller, a nuclear physicist who is known as the "father of the H-bomb."

Teller, an adviser to the Air Force, said that from a military and technical standpoint, ratification of the treaty would have "grave consequences for the security of the United States and the free world."

And, he contended, the treaty would permit the Soviet Union to maintain an advantage in multimegaton explosions and would "impede the development of missile defense in the United States."

Much of Teller's testimony, released Wednesday, conflicted with the expressed views of Taylor and other administration witnesses, including Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Committee.

Seaborg said Wednesday the underground testing allowed under the pact would permit a wide range of nuclear weapons development, including warheads for antimissile missiles for defense.

"We already have a number of warheads for that purpose and can develop a new warhead by underground testing," Seaborg declared.

Taylor, told the preparedness subcommittee: "In the antiballistic missile field, development of the U.S. system does not depend on atmospheric testing, and hence the treaty will not significantly influence any imbalance that may exist."

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—

First Lady Jacqueline Kennedy is home with her children again and out of the public spotlight.

At her doctor's suggestion, she may be able to stay that way for the next five months. It may be a month or two before she returns to Washington.

Mrs. Kennedy settled quickly back into the summer routine in the big gray-shingled house, "Brambletyde," which the Kennedys have rented on Squaw Island here until Sept. 15.

Surrounded by her children, Caroline, 5½, and John Jr., 2½, and seven pet dogs, she can relax and try to forget the heartache of losing her third child, Patrick Bouvier Kennedy, who lived less than two days.

Mrs. Kennedy came home from Otis Air Force Base Hospital Wednesday. Her obstetrician, Dr. John W. Walsh of Washington, D.C., said Mrs. Kennedy is making a very satisfactory recovery from the Caesarean birth on Aug. 7 but suggested:

"In order to insure her complete rehabilitation and continuing good health, it will be necessary for her to curtail all of her activities and not undertake an official schedule until after the first of the year."

This would take Mrs. Kennedy out of many White House social functions, including state dinners for visiting heads of state such as two forthcoming ones for Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and the king and queen of Afghanistan.

It also means that she will not take part in other activities such as greeting groups or things of that kind, said Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary.

The First Lady's plans indicate she will remain here until the lease on "Brambletyde" expires and then go to the Hammersmith Farm home of her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss at Newport, R.I.

Number of County Wards Declines

LISBON — The number of children in a care of the County Welfare Department declined by 2 during July, according to the monthly report of Robert Bycroft, director.

On July 1, the department had 153 children under its care. It added 15 during the month, but 17 were dismissed as wards.

Beginning Aug. 1 the department had 151 on its rolls—105 in boarding homes, 25 adoptive, four in work homes, five with relatives, seven in the Kyes Memorial Home in East Palestine and five in institutions.

The woman became suspicious and phoned the police. When detectives arrived, a fight ensued and the men were taken into custody.

Police said a considerable sum of money was found in a car and later another car was found about a mile away with a large sum of money in it.

Police in Bournemouth said charges were placed against the men but did not announce the charges or their identities.

The men were to be taken today to Buckinghamshire, the county in which the bandit gang held up the Glasgow-London mail train and escaped with 2.5 million pounds ($7 million) in currency.

Don't Start Spending-Nothing May Come of Tax Cut Proposal

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — If you carry your heart in your wallet and it skipped a beat at the news from the House, relax. Nothing may come of it.

The House Ways and Means Committee Wednesday finally approved a cut in individual and corporate income taxes, starting in part next Jan. 1.

But already some congressional leaders are examining an embalming needle, just in case.

The tax-cut action was a sudden burst of energy from a committee which has been pondering the bill since President Kennedy first offered it Jan. 24.

At that time he also asked Congress for broad tax reforms. He wanted the cuts and the reforms to go together.

The committee proved more agreeable about the cut than the reforms. Yet, for most of 1963, this had been Kennedy's biggest program.

The spotlight was captured by the civil rights bill he offered later, although even he hadn't anticipated the need for it earlier in the year.

Committee approval of the tax-cut bill, however, was just a first step.

Now it goes to the rules committee before reaching the full House for a vote. This takes time. Perhaps the House will get around to voting in September.

Once through the House—if it gets through the House—the bill moves over to the Senate for the full treatment.

That means weeks of hearings in the Senate itself for a vote.

But Republican Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, a member of the finance committee, has doubts Congress will cut taxes this year.

"It is not unwarranted," he said, "to think this matter might go over until next year." He thought action might be blocked by a civil rights filibuster—a view also expressed by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., finance committee chairman.

They weren't alone. A Democratic member of the same committee, Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee, said he doubts the Senate will act on it in 1963.

If this wasn't gloomy enough for taxpayers hoping for more take-home pay, starting Jan. 1, another top Republican sprayed ice water.

This was Charles Halleck of Indiana, the Republican leader in the House. He sounded gloomier than Dirksen.

While Dirksen thought the House might pass the bill, even if the Senate didn't, Halleck thought the House might not pass it in the first place if it thought the Senate wouldn't.

From a politician's standpoint, 1964 would be a much better year for a tax cut—it's an election year—particularly if Congress granted the cut just before it adjourned in 1964 to start campaigning.

It would be fresher in voters' memories.

So, if not this year then maybe next year, although Kennedy insisted months ago that a tax cut would stimulate the economy.

"The purpose of cutting taxes," he said, "is not to create a deficit but to increase investment, employment, and the prospects for a balanced budget."

It is no wonder this Congress has been called the tardiest in years.

Former President Harry S. Truman, in the 1948 presidential campaign, called the Republican-run Congress of that year the "do nothing" Congress.

It was a lot more active than this one which happens to be run by Democrats. It's full of uncertainties.

Wednesday, for example: The Senate by a squeaky 47-44 vote approved a domestic Peace Corps for a two-year trial. Now the bill goes to the House. It's future? Uncertain.

At the same time the House Wednesday passed and sent to the Senate legislation authorizing $119,000,000 in federal aid for college construction over three years. Predictions on this? Unstable.

This bill is similar to one the House passed last year. Because the House and Senate differed on it, it died. There may be differences again.

Everything will bog down for weeks if the Senate gets into a filibuster on civil rights, as it probably will.

$30,000 In Jewelry Stolen In Columbus

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Suburban Reynoldsburg police were investigating the theft of a reported $30,000 worth of jewelry today.

Police said Theodore Korn, a salesman for the Longines-Whittemore Co., told them he left his car in the parking lot of a restaurant to eat dinner Wednesday night. The jewelry in three small valises was locked in the trunk of the car, Korn told police.

When he left the restaurant about an hour later, police quoted Korn as saying, the car was gone. Shattered glass and a brick lay on the ground where the car had been parked, indicating a window had been broken, police said.

The car was found abandoned in a field about two blocks away early today, police said, and the jewelry was gone.

Probers Doubt Boy's Story In Girl's Murder

CINCINNATI (AP) — Probers say they believe 15-year-old Michael Wehring isn't telling a straight story to some questions about the bludgeon killing of his pretty high school girl friend, Patricia Ann Rebholz.

Prosecutor Raymond Shannon and his chief investigator, Don Roney, declined to say what part of the youth's story doesn't add up after two long lie detector sessions Tuesday and Wednesday.

The only hint was Roney's report Wednesday that the boy could not tell investigators how he got blood of the same type as the girl's on his trousers—blood type "B". The boy has type "O".

Wehring returned home with his mother and sister Wednesday night after a nine hour session of questions at Norwood Police Station.

The 15-year-old girl's body was discovered early last Friday in a back yard across the street from the Wehring home in suburban Greenhills.

Police said she had telephoned Wehring's sister from a Legion Hall dance asking if she could stop at the Wehring home. Michael had not attended the dance.

She was walking the short distance from the Legion Hall to the Wehring home when she was grabbed and killed, police said.

She had not been molested sexually.

The Race Is Getting Costly

When President Kennedy started talking about putting the U.S. space program in high gear early in his administration, he had just about everyone pulling for him. National pride, shaken by a Soviet first, was on his side.

Now, with memories of Sputnik I dimmed by intervening triumphs by both nations, many Americans are taking a long second look at the cost of planting the American flag on the moon.

The goal, according to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, could be achieved by 1970. The cost has been estimated at up to 740 billion, or close to $10,000 a mile for a single round trip.

But the cost is being measured in other ways, too.

SOME of the nation's leading civilian researchers are complaining that the moon race is creating a threat of economic stagnation. The problem, they say, lies in the frantic bidding by space and military contractors for scientists and engineers. It's creating a shortage of three key people in private industry. It has sent salaries rocketing upward and, as a result, has slowed new product development for the civilian economy.

Company-supported research also is suffering from the ever increasing concentration of government-sponsored research projects aside from the moon race.

Samuel Lebner, a DuPont Co. vice president, summed it up this way for the Wall Street Journal: "Government research programs serve as a brake on research in the private sector." He added that even if corporations had unlimited funds to spend they could not find sufficient personnel to expand research indefinitely.

National Science Foundation figures show that company spending on research totaled $4.5 billion at last count in 1961, a 1 per cent increase over 1960. Salary costs rose 5 per cent during that time. Government-sponsored research, meanwhile, topped $6 billion in 1961.

COMPOUNDING the problem, according to Commerce Department reports, is that little more than half of the 60,000 research engineers needed will be graduated this year, and the space program may take most of them.

While there is little doubt that space research and other government projects will have a beneficial side effect in terms of new civilian products, there seems to be grounds for the fear that essential industrial research is being raided to death.

It will remain for Congress to decide in deliberating increased space race outlays how much of a talent drain civilian economy can stand.

No one wants to take a back seat to Russia, but the race may not be worth the candle if civilian enterprise is stifled along the way.

David Lawrence

Because of a superficial acceptance of the emotional cry that world peace is a step nearer by reason of the treaty limiting nuclear tests, Nikita Khrushchev and his Communist government are getting applause in many parts of the world, including this country. The dispatches from abroad give the impression that some kind of major step has been taken in the cause of humanity. Many Americans also have been led to believe this, since President Kennedy has called the treaty a "victory for mankind."

But the real news is to be found in the fragmentary disclosures of what goes on inside the totalitarian government in Moscow. A United Press International dispatch last Saturday night escaped general attention. Is it because Communist censorship, too, is accepted now as "normal"? The news item didn't make many front pages but it contains the key to what's going on behind the Iron Curtain and tells more about the danger of war than do the hackneyed phrases of the treaty on nuclear testing. The dispatch says:

"The Soviet Union took the first concrete step towards a planned reform of information media today by setting up a state committee for the press with a little-known Communist official at its head."

"The plan to tighten control over Russian newspapers and publishing houses has been in the works for several months. It was formally announced during the ideology conference of the Soviet Communist party Central Committee in June."

"The announcement of the new state committee was made in two paragraphs in the government newspaper Izvestia, edited by Premier Nikita Khrushchev's son-in-law, Alexei Adzhubei. . . .

"I Agree With Khrushchev. Why CAN'T We Build Socialism On The Debris We Have? . . . Why Does It Have To Be Radioactive?"

Cuban Beachhead In Uruguay

By VICTOR RIESEL
MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay
Out in the fashionable Carrasco suburb, the Cubans began building a wall around their embassy. As soon as it was a few feet high, it was dubbed with slogans likening the growing brick fence to the Berlin Wall. The Cubans stopped construction. But not their heavily financed country propaganda and recruiting operations.

Castro's agents operate in most communities, all ports, big factories, university circles and newspaper and radio fields. One of the newsmen who tried to pillory me was in the Cuban hills with the original Castro contingents.

There are three dailies, two radio stations and three weeklies which support the Communists here and the Sino-Soviet-Cuban causes abroad.

The publications have a circulation of more than 3.5 million over a monthly period in this nation of some three million people run by an easy going, tolerant Swiss-type government.

Because the ruling National Council of nine men sees no threat in the intense Communist activity, Uruguay has become the beachhead of Cuban and Communist South American activity.

A WIDELY pro-Cuban "July 26th" Cuban Independence Day celebration in the Sports Palace, brought out speakers who polled some 40 per cent of the national vote last November and in previous elections.

Among them were the leaders of a brand new party actually named after Castro. It is called FRENTE — the initial standing for Frente Izquierdista de Liberacion (Leftwing Liberation Front). Naming candidates for the first time, the FIDEL elected one senator and three deputies by rolling up 40,000 votes last November. It campaigned on a bitterly anti-U.S., pro-Cuban revolutionary platform.

All of this is strongly backed by the Communist bloc network which appears to be the strongest Soviet-Cuban concentration in Latin America. The Soviet embassy alone, according to Juan Antonio Acuna, general secretary of the anti-Communist Uruguayan Confederation of Labor, has between 80 and 110 Russians living behind a locked gate.

The Cubans work closely with them and do the field operations through headquarters in the smaller cities. There also are several score Communist "diplomats" in the Czech, Polish, Romanian and Bulgarian legation East Germany and Hungary have trade delegations.

ALL COMMUNIST nations except Red China, North Korea, North Vietnam and Albania have officials in this tiny land. The Peking Communists have not been able to penetrate the Communist party, or fronts or labor movement — but Mao Tse-tung is championed by the extremist Socialist party.

Typical of the exploitation of the extreme freedom of movement permitted all Communist propagandists, activists and bloc country officials is the holding of a global Communist labor conference here the other day. Special agents flew in from Russia, Czechoslovakia, France and Belgium.

The Cubans were in charge. First they met over in the "Beer Palace" and then in the headquarters of what is called a union of commercial employees. Its sessions were secret but it is possible to report the Cubans' plans.

This continental labor parley was called in an effort to launch a Latin labor federation under Castro's leadership. Officially, it will replace a dormant Communist organization known as the CTAL — Latin American Confederation of Workers, now operated out of Mexico City by an old friend of Joseph Stalin known as Lombardo Toledano.

THIS NEW LABOR movement will have its opening convention soon in Rio de Janeiro. It will give Castro a chance to call simultaneous general strikes in many Latin lands.

This support was pledged to the Cubans by representatives of Bolivian, Ecuadorian, Chilean and Uruguayan Labor, Communist chiefs from those lands have been

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Should married men with two children be allowed to date? When I say "date" I mean purely social—drinks, dinner and nothing more.

My husband insists that this is acceptable behavior in our society and that everyone except hypocrites, prudes and squares does it openly. He also insists that those who don't do it openly are probably doing it secretly.

My husband says he believes in being completely honest with me and he hopes I won't force him to turn into a sneak. He also says a man appreciates his own wife more after he has been out with other women.

This all sounds reasonable to me when he is saying it but when I am alone and start thinking about it it doesn't seem to add up.

I should tell you that I was born in Europe where the ideas of home and family are quite different than in this country. Please advise me.—MRS. B.

Dear Mrs. B: You sound as if you've just had your brain washed and can't do a thing along with this "Design for Living" it's nobody's business but your own. But please don't buy the idea that everybody does it and it's perfectly all right.

The married man who can't give up dating is like the 55-year-old matron who still wears her sorority pin.

Exhausted Granny

Dear Ann: Am I an unnatural grandmother? If you say yes, then there are a lot of us because many of our friends feel the same way.

My married children think it is my responsibility to sit with their youngsters whenever they have something they'd rather do. I have no objection to helping out in a pinch but it seems as if I am getting pinched four

From the Files

10 YEARS AGO — A group of 19 downtown East State St. merchants today reaffirmed their petition presented to city Council in which they agreed to bear 50 per cent of the cost of having the street resurfaced.

25 YEARS AGO — Mrs. Frank Higgins of Youngstown, district governor of Quota, will speak to Salem Quotarians Friday.

35 YEARS AGO — Nineteen children who have been spending the summer at Columbiana County health camp near the county home will be returned to their homes Saturday.

Matter of Fact

Recife, a seaport city of Brazil at the mouth of the Capiberibe River, is composed of four separate parts—Recife, Santo Antonio, Sao Jose and Boa Vista—which are integrated by many bridges. Because of its network of waterways the city is often referred to as the Venice of America.

So They Say

Nationality and religion are separate and distinct. Our nationality is American, our religion is Judaism, our homeland is the United States of America. We reject any concept that all Jews outside of Israel are in "exile." —Clarence L. Coleman Jr., president of American Council for Judaism.

IT SO HAPPENS that state committees for radio, television and the movies have been functioning in Russia for some time. The addition of a state committee for the press, which has just been announced, merely completes the process of concentrated control of all communications media throughout the Soviet Union.

Thus, a nation of 200 million people, as well as the peoples in the other Communist-held countries in Eastern Europe, not only will continue to be deprived of much of the news of the rest of the world but will be given heavy doses of Communist ideology every day in a massive "brainwashing" of the public.

With only one political party permitted to have names on the ballot and with elections more or less perfunctory affairs, the dictatorship which holds sway in Moscow can at any moment persuade the people that the West is planning a war, that it's aggressive and may launch a surprise attack, and that hence the duty of the Soviets is to strike the "first blow."

This is the heart of the peace-or-war issue, and no amount of treaty making to prevent a world conflict will be of avail if there is no free communication continuously between the peoples of the East and the West.

TO DRAW the Iron Curtain tighter than before and to erect walls and barriers to the flow of truth is to threaten world peace and to relegate to a position of unimportance all the agreements about nuclear testing in the air and in outer space and underwater.

Because there is mutual distrust, both the East and the West will continue testing underground and will build bigger and deadlier missiles.

The truism that dictators and not people make wars has long been obvious. That's why the sad news which has just come from Moscow is worthy of the attention of free peoples everywhere—apparently suppression of truth is to be carried on even more comprehensively than before.

There is in this little cause for rejoicing about a "victory for mankind." The intensification of the censorship inside Russia and the second anniversary of the building of the Berlin Wall certainly give symbolic emphasis to the fact that Western governments have failed to speak out forthrightly for the cause of human freedom.

This is really a defeat for mankind.

Boy and Queen

By Barnett D. Laschever

Turn an 8-year-old New Jersey boy loose in New York, and chances are he'll want to tour an ocean liner, take a swim, go fishing in Central Park, eat lunch, go swimming, maybe listen to a story, climb around an old fort, take a swim and hold hands with a queen.

"Hold hands with a queen! What do I want to do that for?" an 8-year-old boy from New Jersey asked.

"Take the queen's hand, and be quiet," the boy was admonished.

The queen, vivacious Gloria Myles, this year's reigning monarch over New York City's Summer Festival, smiled and took the youngster's hand.

"First time I've been snubbed by a male," she said.

Then, hand-in-hand, the tow-headed queen and the boy who doesn't have much use for girls went on a romp through Manhattan.

Their trip had a special purpose: to lay out a trail of fun, amusement and recreation that could be followed by a family group visiting the city during Summer Festival time.

NEW YORK BEING as large as it is, and its attractions so numerous and diverse, Queen Gloria and her charge could only sample some of the city's offerings in one day. Which only shows that New York City can be visited again and again and again without doing the same thing twice.

First stop on the royal tour was the super-liner United States, world's fastest passenger liner and a joy to behold. As expected the boy asked the usual unexpected questions.

"Why are the hall ways so long?"

"Why are there so many lifeboats?"

"Why aren't the sailors wearing uniforms?"

Most lines welcome tourists when ships are at dock. For information on ships that are in port, watch the Marine News section of newspapers.

From the docks, it was a hop to one of four new motels in Manhattan with outdoor swimming pools. Two others are slated to open in Manhattan in the fall. Motels with outdoor pools are also located in the other boroughs, while two Manhattan hotels have indoor pools.

Atop the motor inn, Her Majesty reclined in the sun, and the young man from Jersey gamboled about in the cooling waters of the pool, just like any guest of the hotel. And then, suddenly, it was time for lunch. The following conversation ensued between the boy, a paragon of honesty, and the queen:

"How was the soup?" "Too hot."

"The hamburger?" "Too big."

"And the jello?" "Too much."

"How was lunch?" "Oh, I liked it very much."

So saying, he slid off his chair, and the entourage proceeded to the Union Carbide building where, mouths agape, the young couple gazed upon a moving, but not working, model of a reactor and other displays that propose to explain the mysteries of nuclear fission.

THE COMPANY is only one of many industrial concerns in New York City that either sponsor interesting displays and exhibits or offer tours of their plants to individuals and groups. The New York City Convention and Visitors Bureau, Dept. HT, 90 East 42nd St., New York 17, will supply its free pamphlet, "New York City Educational Tours," a quarterly calendar of events, entitled "New York is a Summer Festival," and a copy of its "Visitors Guide to New York," on request.

In Central Park, the boy dropped a fishing line into the water, but alas, someone had forgotten the bait, and the city fish were too sophisticated to bite at an unbaited hook.

There are other sights in Central Park that will intrigue children — the forts at the north end of the park, for example, that were erected during the War of 1812 — but time was running out for the queen and the boy.

They ended their day at the statue of Hans Christian Andersen, where, fittingly, Queen Gloria told the youngster the story of Rip van Winkle and his 20-year snooze.

On other days, a boy and girl visiting compete in a model airplane meet, enter a hopscotch contest, visit a radio or TV station, tour, and of course, feed the animals at the zoos.

Did you hear a popping noise?

A queenly queen and an 8-year-old boy were observed in Central Park chewing gum, and popping bubbles at each other.

Sometimes, a boy admitted, girls aren't so bad.

Here's What Kennedy's Tax Cut Would Do For You—Or To You

By EDMOND LEBRETON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The tax bill is moving well enough along in Congress to have a look now at what it would do for you—or to you.

But before getting to the fine points, the big picture should be made crystal-clear: As things stand now, the measure would cut your tax payments.

True, the tax bill has a long way to go before it reaches President Kennedy's desk. The House Ways and Means Committee has lots of work still to do on the measure. Then it has to clear the House Rules Committee, face the full House and travel over to the Senate for another round of hearings and floor action. There it may run into a filibuster on civil rights.

This being understood, let's have a look at the tax bill as it stands now and see what it means to you if the measure in its present form wins approval.

If you pay any taxes at all, you'll be paying less. You would have to have a most peculiarly constructed income not to get some benefit from an across the board slash of tax rates, even though the package also includes some tax-raising features.

The Treasury puts the average rate cut for taxpayers with taxable incomes through $60,000, at 15 1/2 per cent. This picture is painted with a broad brush and applies to the rate changes when they would be complete, Jan. 1, 1965. Take it as a rough guide if you like—but no more than that. For 1964, figure two-thirds of the full saving.

However, in tax matters, everybody is a special case. How much benefit you would actually reap depends on a number of factors. Your income bracket, whether you receive dividends, whether you drive your automobile a lot, whether you buy and sell stocks, whether your income fluctuates widely from year to year—all these and more can be important.

Some guidelines can be plotted, subject to possible change. Among them are these, all applying to the complete revision planned for 1965 and subsequent years:

—If your income is either very high or very low, you would do better proportionately in the reductions than the man in the middle.

The Treasury says a typical taxpayer, if these is such a creature, married and with two children, earning $4,000, would save $100, about 41 per cent of his present tax bill.

His counterpart in the $10,000 class would save $202, or 16.9 per cent.

—If you have been in the habit of itemizing your deductions and claiming the amount paid in state gasoline taxes, a bit of your benefits would be nibbled away. Local gasoline, liquor and tobacco taxes would no longer be deductible, although income, real estate and general sales taxes still would be.

—And if you dent old trusty's fender, you would not be able to claim the whole repair bill as a casualty loss, only the amount over $100 for each mishap to car or other property.

—If you have considerable income from dividends, one change the Treasury wants made would nick your over-all tax gain. This would be repeal of the 4 per cent tax credit, a considerable offset to the tax benefit of many higher-income taxpayers. There may be a compromise that would minimize the effect on smaller dividend recipients.

—But if you are thinking of selling some stocks, real estate, or other property you have held at least two years and on which there will be a profit, you're in luck. You would only have to include 40 per cent, instead of 50 per cent, of such capital gains in your taxable income. And if you're in a high bracket, your top capital gains tax would be only 21 per cent, instead of 25.

—One or two cautions: If you are in the business of building or buying real estate, taking maximum depreciation and selling in a few years to take the most advantage of capital gains—you face stiffened rules. And if in the future you inherit property on which gains have accumulated, you would encounter somewhat tighter tax treatment.

—On fringe benefits, the changes would have an uneven effect. If you get sick and your employer continues your pay, you would get a special deduction for it only after a month, instead of the present rule of a week.

—If you are 65 or older, the new law would give you at least two specific benefits. Your purchases of medicines would be fully deductible, without regard to the present 1 per cent of income floor. And if you sold your home, you would get capital gains tax consideration on any increase in value, even if you did not buy a new house. There would be no tax on gains if the house sold for no more than $20,000; and there would be a reduced tax if it brought more.

McDevitt-VanPelt Vows Spoken In Lisbon Church

Wedding vows were pledged by Miss Vawna Dalene McDevitt and Ronald Eugene VanPelt, in a double ring ceremony Saturday at 3:30 p.m. at the First Methodist Church in Lisbon, with Rev. Fred Shiltz, the pastor, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Foyne McDevitt of W. High St., Lisbon, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VanPelt of RD 5, Salem.

Palms, ferns and twin vases of pink tined gladioli and white mums, enhanced the altar setting. On either side were lighted tapers in seven-branch candelabra. The bridal aisle was marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Vernon Duke of Lisbon presided at the organ, and Miss Harolen Knight of Lisbon, sang, "I Love You Truly," "The Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown fashioned of pleated slipper satin and chantilly lace. The fitted bodice, designed with a rounded neckline and long tapered sleeves, was buttoned down the back by miniature satin buttons, ending in a V, with a corded bow.

The full-length bouffant skirt, featured a back pleated godet of chantilly lace, forming into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion, was held by a queen's crown of pearls. She carried a white bible, which her mother carried at her wedding 20 years ago.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Harolen Knight. Her gown was of sunset pink, peau de soie, with a short overblouse, kimono sleeves, bateau neckline and a bell shaped sheath skirt. She wore a coronet of matching sunset pink, peau de soie, topped with a matching rose and a short flutter veil.

Miss Sandy McDevitt, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and her gown of tea rose pink was styled like the maid of honor's, with a matching headpiece. Each green streamers. In the center, a three-tiered wedding cake, encircled with lilies of the valley, was topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom and held lighted white tapers in crystal. The buffet table, also covered with white linen and pink net, was decorated with pink rosebuds and matching pink lighted candles.

Miss Linda VanPelt of Salem, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Sheila McDevitt of Lisbon, sister of the bride, registered the 150 guests from Youngstown, Columbiana, Salem, Leetonia and Lisbon.

The bride is a 1962 graduate of Lisbon High School. Mr. VanPelt, a 1961 graduate of Greenford High School, is employed by the B and B Carpet and Rug Co. of Youngstown.

The newlyweds traveled to Florida for their wedding trip. For her going away outfit, the bride chose an aqua embroidered cotton dress and jacket, with white and black patent accessories.

A newly furnished apartment in Columbiana will be the couple's future home. Following the rehearsal Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VanPelt were hosts to a party at their home.

Entire New York Mining Town Being Moved to New Location

TAHAWUS, N. Y. (AP) — The hamlet of Tahawus is packing its children, its bags, its houses and its churches and moving 10 miles down the road.

There the drab mining community of 600 persons will be transformed into Winebrook Hills, an 80-acre place with home owners, taxes, circular drives and streets bearing elegant names like Henderson Lane.

It is suburbia with a difference. Winebrook Hills is in the middle of the highest peaks in the Adirondack forest.

Tahawus — a company town built in the rush of World War II — eventually will tumble into the open-pit titanium mine that has crept to within several hundred feet of Main Street.

The mine is owned by the National Lead Co. and its product is used as pigment in paint and plastics. The town, too, is owned lock, stock and schoolhouse by the company. So when it was discovered that the titanium deposit extended under the village, the company ordered the move.

National Lead bought the site of Winebrook Hills in the town of Newcomb from a paper company, built sewers and a water system and hired Carl Tuxill of Weedsport to move 77 units, including houses, apartment dwellings and two churches.

The exodus began the week of Aug. 4. Down the winding highway aboard a trailer rolled the log-cabin Episcopal church. A 1½-story house was moved on a separate rig. The trip took 2½ hours and only a couple of bashed highway guard rails testified to their passage.

American GI Eating More, Better Food Than Ever Before

CHICAGO (AP)—The American soldier is eating more and better food today than ever before.

Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Evans, 52, head of Defense Subsistence Supply Center headquartered in Chicago says it costs an average of $1.05 a day to feed a member of the armed forces.

To feed the 2.6 million men in the armed services, Gen. Evans spends more than $2.5 million each work day. This makes him the largest food buyer in the United States.

To operate his far-flung food procurement and shipping system Gen. Evans employs 1,575 civilians, officered by 125 men.

35 Attend County VFW Session Here

Thirty-five members of the Columbiana County Council of the Veterans of Foreign Wars from Lisbon, Columbiana, Wellsville, East Palestine, East Liverpool, Salineville, Toronto and Salem met Wednesday evening in the Salem post home.

Carl Lamocha of the Columbiana post, county commander, presided.

A detailed report of the recent business meeting of the county Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission was presented by James A. Rhodes Sr., VFW representative to the commission, and G. M. Sutherin, commander of District 6, reported on a recent staff meeting of VFW state officers held recently at Columbus.

It was announced that approximately 200 attended the district VFW picnic Sunday on the grounds of the East Liverpool post.

Plans were formulated for the coming 1964 membership drive which will begin in September.

Post Commander Francis Himmler was in charge of the chili luncheon which was served by members of the Gold Star Auxiliary of the Salem post.

The council will meet again at 8 p.m. Sept. 11 at the Lisbon post.

there was graft and corruption in his government.

After the announcement, the crowd began breaking up.

They walked off toward native villages excitedly talking about what they called "our victory."

Workers rioted Tuesday, calling for reform in government, abolition of Youlou's plan of ne-party rule, and higher wages.

Then they stormed the city prison and liberated 480 inmates in a search for jailed labor leaders. Police fire killed five and wounded about a dozen.

Youlou Wednesday promised reforms in the government. His promises either came too late or were not accepted by the people. There was no indication who might succeed him.

A former Roman Catholic parish priest who was forbidden to say Mass because of his political activity, Youlou had been believed to hold this country of 795,000 people in a firm grip.

But complaints of graft and his proposal to install only one political party brought resentment to a pitch.

So far two sets of problems have been clearly defined as being likely to figure in the next round, Soviet Premier Khrushchev has called repeatedly for an East-West nonaggression pact. President Kennedy and Rusk have countered this with proposals that the Soviet Union should agree to measures for reducing the possibility of conflict over Berlin and for limiting the dangers of surprise attack.

Those were essentially the two positions which were explored when Rusk conferred with Gromyko and Khrushchev. The main impression which Rusk brought back to Washington about his talks with the Soviet officials was that Khrushchev is not urgently pressing for a nonaggression deal at this time. This means simply that there is a pause of about a month during which both sides can review their policy in the light of the test ban agreement.

U.S. authorities are uncertain why Khrushchev wanted this breathing spell in the East-West exchanges, although they welcome it. One speculation is that he needs time to assess the state of his conflict with Red China; another is that he wanted to be sure that the United States would ratify the test ban pact.

Hasty Conclusions

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—and how many do you agree with?—One big reason American women generally are poor athletes may be that they are poor sports. They are pampered and made to feel superior from birth. Therefore the only role many find tolerable in life is the winner's role.

But in sports competition somebody always has to lose. That's why so few American girls are interested in athletics. They don't want to take the chance of losing—particularly in public. A wife with a balding, potbellied, middle-aged husband usually feels serenely safe from feminine rivals. She couldn't be more wrong. This is the type of guy who keeps most of the champagne corks popping in night clubs—and pays the rent for most of the nation's love nests. A phony, when asked what bores him most, almost invariably replies, "Phonies." You can put it down as a fact that people who loudly object to contributing to organized charities are pretty stingy when it comes to private charity, too. Never marry a girl who tries to catch the bride's bouquet at a wedding with a first baseman's mitt. There's such a thing as carrying eagerness too far. A penniless bum is never as deferential to anyone as a millionaire is to a multimillionaire. Toothaches are nature's way of showing that all men are equal. Fat men who go to fat doctors always enjoy life more than fat men who go to skinny doctors. Most fellows hate to sit in even a friendly poker game with a preacher. They can't help feeling he may have a secret edge. One of the things that puzzles me most is why the first thing God did was to invent Monday. But He proved His compassion when He got around to creating Friday. Never trust a man who says he's "just an old country boy trying to get along." Real country boys don't brag about it. A poor woman who steals things from a department store is a shoplifter. A rich woman who steals things from a department store is a kleptomaniac. But they're both trying to get something for nothing. Only a gravedigger looks for opportunity in a town in which the cemetery is twice the size of the business district. Mount City, near Chillicothe, Ohio, is one of the strangest of Mount Builders works. It has 25 conical mounds on a 60-acre tract.

Defending Class AA champion Ed Pukalski will tee off Sunday at 8:30 a.m., with Bill White, Howard Jeskr and Dell Court, in the third annual Salem City Amateur Golf Tournament at Robbyn's Knoll course.

The first 18 holes of the 54-hole event actually gets under way Saturday, with 54 of the 111 players entered scheduled to tee off.

Braves Dump Dodgers 5-3; Giants Nip Cincy 7-6

LA's Onetime Stranglehold In Race For NL Flag Now Toehold After Loss

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer

Is that the sound of the Los Angeles Dodgers leaning on the panic button now that their stranglehold on the National League pennant scramble has been reduced to a toehold?

Hank Aaron may have triggered the little round disc when he slipped a little round ball into the stands for a grand slam homer that gave Milwaukee a 5-3 victory Wednesday night and trimmed the Dodgers' edge over second-place San Francisco to a mere three games.

Aaron hit homer No. 32 off Don Drysdale, capping a five-run seventh inning that sent the Dodgers reeling with their third straight loss and fifth in six games. In three weeks, the Dodger lead has been trimmed by four games and the Giants have made up seven lengths. "It's still a long way to go," said San Francisco Manager Al Dark, who watched the Giants get homers from Willie Mays and Willie McCovey but need a pinch-hit single by Felipe Alou to drive in the deciding run in a 7-6, 10-inning decision over fourth-place Cincinnati.

Third-place St. Louis closed to within four games of the top, edging Houston 3-2 on Bill White's seventh-inning homer. Philadelphia moved into a tie for fifth with Chicago, dropping the Cubs twice 7-2 and 9-3. The New York Mets defeated Pittsburgh 4-2. Drysdale, 15-13, had a three-hit shutout going into the seventh. With one out, Roy McMillan singled, Del Crandall walked and a passed ball moved the runners up. One out later, Drysdale intentionally walked Lee Maye and Frank Bolling singled to tie the score 1-1. Aaron followed with his drive, getting rookie Bob Sadowski his second major league victory.

Kirkland's Homer In 11th Provides Margin

Donovan Beats Herbert As Indians Blank Chisox

BOSTON, (AP) — There was little doubt today that the aging arm of Cleveland Indians' pitcher Dick Donovan still has a lot of life in it.

The Tribe got another brilliant pitching performance from Donovan, who blanked the Chicago White Sox 1-0 Wednesday night as he hurled his second straight shutout.

The 35-year-old right-hander allowed only four hits and retired 19 of the last 20 batters he faced in a thrilling pitching duel with Chicago's Ray Herbert.

Willie Kirkland made Donovan a winner, hitting his 13th homer of the season in the 11th inning against 10 losses. The blow also broke Cleveland's string of 27 scoreless innings.

It was Donovan's eighth victory against 10 losses. The hits he permitted were all singles and he held the Sox to only one hit after the fifth inning. Herbert's record is now 11-7.

Another bright spot in the Cleveland triumph was the job done by rookie Vic Davalillo, who recently returned to the lineup. A broken arm kept him on the sidelines since June 12.

The speedy Venezuelan made a great throw in the third inning that got Donovan out of a jam. Davalillo nailed Camilo Carreon at home plate as the Chicago catcher tried to score on Mike Herschberger's single. Carreon had reached first on an error and advanced on a sacrifice.

Davalillo, dropped from leadoff man to third in the batting order, provided the punch Manager Birdie Tebbets was seeking. The young centerfielder had three hits in five at-bats.

The Indians had two good scoring chances before Kirkland's clincher. They had the first two men on in the sixth and again in the seventh but they couldn't produce.

The Sox threatened in the fifth when Dave Nicholson and Ron Hansen singled. But Donovan got Carreon on a liner to right field and made Herbert bunt into a double play.

The Giants started Frank Linzy, just called up from the minors, while John Tsitouris got the call for the Reds. A hit barrage ensued.

The Giants got 15 hits, the Reds 17, including a homer by Vada Pinson that put Cincinnati ahead 6-5 in the seventh innings. Jim Daveport, singled to set up the Giants' tying run in the eighth, then led off the 10th with a double and rode home with the clincher on Alou's hit.

Twins' Fans Break Million Mark 3rd Year in Row; Yanks Lose 2

By MURRAY ROSE Associated Press Sports Writer

The Yankees' runaway in the American League apparently hasn't dimmed the enthusiasm of the fans in Minnesota where the Twins are making a strong fight to take over second place again.

A crowd of 25,014 in the Minneapolis-St. Paul area was on hand Wednesday night and hosted home attendance to 1,017,146 the third straight year the twins have lured more than a million customers.

The fans had a ball Wednesday night. They watched the scoreboard and cheered as the Yankees took a double beating from the Red Sox at Boston, 14-7 and 5-4. The Cleveland Indians nipped the second-place White Sox at Chicago, 1-0, in 11 innings on Willie Kirkland's homer.

Then they whooped it up as Bernie Allen's single drove in the run that gave the Twins a 13th-inning 2-1 edge over the Baltimore Orioles who had been nipping at their heels.

As a result of the night's activity, the Yanks were eight games in front of the White Sox with the Twins just another length behind and the Orioles 10½ behind the league leaders. In the other AL night games, the Angels beat the Washington Senators at Los Angeles, 2-0, and the Detroit Tigers whipped the Athletics at Kansas City, 5-2.

Allen, benched most of the season by a weak bat and hitting .195, lashed a Stu Miller serve into right field to score Vic Power who had doubled, with the winner, Bill Daley, who hurled four innings of shutout relief collected his fourth victory. He has lost two.

The Yankees saw their six-game victory streak end-1 by a barrage of 19 hits in the Boston daylight and then had a four-run rally in the ninth inning just fall short under the lights in the day-night doubleheader.

Dick Stuart had a picnic against the Yanks. He collected six hits and drove in six runs. The Sox first baseman clouted his 29th homer, a two-run shot in the eighth inning of the second game.

The crowning blow, however, was relief pitcher Jack Lamabe's first hit of the seasona three-run homer in Boston's five-run seventh inning of the first game.

Butts Blasted By Officials

Georgia Board Flays Athletic Boss

By DON MCKEE
ATLANTA (AP) Dr. O. C. Aderhold, University of Georgia president, and three athletic board members have testified they believe former coach Wally Butts has a bad character.

Several more athletic board members were prepared to take the stand today in the federal court trial of Butts' $10-million libel suit against the Curtis Publishing Co.

The suit resulted from football-fix charges against Butts by the Saturday Evening Post, published by Curtis.

Aderhold said Wednesday that Butts' business interests had interfered with his duties as athletic director prior to his resignation Feb. 28.

The stocky Butts, who spent 21 years as head coach at Georgia and then 2½ years as just athletic director, resigned the day after he was confronted with charges that he fed data on his team to Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant of Alabama.

In his testimony, Butts said he resigned to avoid embarrassment to the university.

When asked his opinion of Butts' character, Aderhold said:

"I would say it's bad."
The 58-year-old Butts sat impassively. Aderhold started to comment further but was stopped by Judge Lewis R. Morgan who ruled that no specifics could be discussed.

Similar testimony about Butts' character was given by Prof. Harold Heckman, Prof. R. H. Driftmeyer and alumnus William T. Bradshaw, all athletic board members.

Heckman and Driftmeyer said flatly they would not believe Butts under oath. When the question was put to Bradshaw, he replied: "I don't believe so."

Browns Have Potential For Long Passing Game

HIRAM, Ohio (AP)—The Cleveland Browns have the personnel to complete the long pass—something they weren't able to do in losing to Detroit last Saturday.

That is the opinion of Coach Blanton Collier. Apparently rookie Clifton McNeil has the knack of getting loose for the long pass. He got behind the Lions' secondary once, but the pass from Frank Ryan was overthrown.

"Ray Renfro may have lost a shade of speed," Collier said Wednesday, "but he can get open. So can Gary Collins, Tom Hutchinson and Rich Kreitling. This is not a matter of sheer speed. You have to have the moves and know the patterns to get loose."

Salem Legion Roms 2-0 Behind Moffett

A single in the first inning by Charley Buckley spoiled Hilton Moffett's bid for a no-hitter as the Salem Legion baseball team blanked Lisbon 2-0 at Centennial Park Wednesday.

The county champs took a 1-0 lead in the initial inning on a triple by Ron Sabo and a single by Don Kendrick. Salem picked up its second run in the third on a single by Kendrick and an error. Moffett led the local Legion aggregation to its 15th win in 16 loss starts. He struck out 14 and walked only three batters.

Kendrick led the Salem hitting attack with three singles. Ron Sabo collected two hits.

Losing hurler Dean struck out nine Salem batters and he walked two.

Old Dutch will compete against Garvin Gulf of Bucyrus Friday at 8:30 p.m. at Mansfield. If they win they advance to Ahsland for a contest Saturday at 7:15 p.m. and if the district champs lose they will battle at 11:15 a.m. All tournament games will be run under Eastern Standard Time.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

Have you ever been down here to the Country Store and had a steak? A lot of people tell me we have the best steaks they ever ate.

All you have to do is stop by our big meat dept. and pick out the one you want, take it over to the restaurant section and they will prepare and serve it to you. You pay the same price you would if you took it home and prepared it yourself. If you want anything with the steak you pay for that at a very low price. Coffee 5c, bread and butter 10c, salad 20c. Add it all up and you have a very good low priced meal.

Today's Steak Winner:
Mrs. William Lewis, Salem, Ohio

don't realize the importance of the Red Cross Blood Program. Before the program (of which we are fortunate to be a part) blood donors had to be called in the middle of the night to check their blood types for emergencies. Now all blood types are available at our two hospitals — because the people give the blood. Remember your appointment next Monday at the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour from 12 to 6:00 P.M.

The balance of the evening was spent socially.

Miss Holleman recently completed an advance course in French at Kansas State University and will teach in the Largo High School beginning in September.

Gregg will enter Florida State University at Tallahassee, in September.

Robert Copeland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Copeland of Salineville Road, accompanied his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Rayford Trucks and son, Clement, of Friendswood, Texas, to their home for a visit. The Trucks family had been guests of the Copelands for the past two weeks.

TO VOTE ON CHANGE

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati voters are expected to ballot in November on a Democratic proposal to change the city's government. Election officials Wednesday counted 14,989 valid signatures on initiative petitions more than enough to put the question on ballots.

Hamilton County Democrats want an elected mayor instead of the present city manager and a Council enlarged from the present nine members to 26, one for each ward.

10 TV Shows With Women Stars Slated

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a decade or so, network television has apparently reached a conclusion: Ladies are strictly for laughs.

A check of next season's programs on the three major television networks reveals there will be 10 programs in which a woman is, undisputedly, the star of the show. Every one of them, with the possible exception of CBS' "Judy Garland Show," is a comedy.

There is no need, however, for the formation of a protective association by the male stars. The odds are still eight to one in favor of men.

Historically, television has not had much success with serious series with feminine stars. Even high-powered performer like Barbara Stanwyck and June Allyson saw their series die dimly after a single season. Loretta Young survived for several seasons, but last season was among the earliest casualties of the ratings wars.

Two outstanding exceptions have been CBS' indestructible Lucille Ball and NBC's Shirley Booth of "Hazel." Both are comedienne.

Two new comedy shows, incidentally, will join "Hazel" by having their stars playing domestics: Imogene Coca in NBC's "Grindl," and Inger Stevens in ABC's "Farmer's Daughter."

Glynis Johns in CBS' "Glynis" will be a happy housewife and mystery writer.

Bea Benaderet will be the central figure in CBS' "Petticoat Junction," playing a widowed hotelkeeper. And Patty Duke will play two look-alike girls on her ABC series, Edie Adams, of course, will hit comedy hard on her variety show on ABC.

Of course there will be the usual number of comely young women playing wives in the family situation comedies, but only Donna Reed of the ABC show of the same name can claim star status.

The fish was chosen as a symbol of watchfulness against temptation by the ancient Buddhists, because eyes of fish have no eyelids and are never closed.
